U.S. v. Patrick Dolan
Crim. No. 08-00620-001(DRD)

RIDER A

Defendant, age 30, was a long-time, heavy and compulsive user of a variety of drugs. In 2007 he was an employee of Federal Express in Eatontown, New Jersey through which firearms were shipped to distributors across the country. Defendant commenced stealing firearms, and he and a confederate started selling them for cash or drugs in housing project areas in East Orange, Newark and Jersey City. Defendant was responsible for selling more than 100 weapons in the projects where crime and shooting were common.

Defendant was released after his arrest on a $200,000 bond cosigned by his mother and step-father. He entered a detoxification treatment center which he completed successfully but relapsed after his release. He subsequently entered a short-term residential program, was discharged, and recent tests have been negative for drug use.

Defendant is married, has a seven year old son and a six year old daughter. His drug use caused the marriage to fail, but he behaves responsibly towards his children. The crime is a most serious one, placing dangerous weapons in crime areas in the hands of persons likely to use them. His offenses were a product of his uncontrolled drug use, but general deterrence and the nature of the crime requires a significant penalty.

The Plea Agreement provides that "[t]he parties agree not to seek or argue for any upward or downward departure or any upward or downward adjustment not set forth herein. The parties further agree that a sentence within the Guidelines range that results from the agree total Guidelines offense level of 25 is reasonable." Notwithstanding this agreement defense counsel has submitted a letter brief urging that "leniency should be considered by the Court when imposing sentence in this matter" and supplied many letters in support of this position. This in effect seeks a variance, even though the material is properly submitted as relevant to the question where within the Guideline range Defendant should be sentenced.

After reviewing the Presentence Investigation Report the Court concluded that while the seriousness of this particular offense requires the imposition of significant jail time the unusual circumstances of the Defendant render a sentence at the bottom of the Guideline range greater than necessary to comply with the purposes set forth in 18 U.S.C. § 3553(a)(2).

At the time he committed the offense 30 year old Defendant was an apparently incurable drug addict, having first experimented with drugs and alcohol at age 13, and being addicted particularly to heroin and cocaine at the time he stole and distributed the firearms. The pressing need for drugs was the motivation for the crime. Even after he was released immediately after his arrest he entered a drug treatment center but relapsed in December 2008, using heroin.

However, on January 5, 2009 he entered Turning Point, an in-patient drug treatment center and completed detoxification and then entered a short-term residential program. His progress was excellent and he was discharged from treatment in April 2009. He resumed outpatient treatment and, as reported in the PSI, "[a]ll reports were indicative of a positive adjustment to treatment and Dolan was described as making good progress. All reports since June 2009 have been negative for drug use.

The aspects of Defendant's life apart from his serious crime suggest that he is a candidate for release into the community. He is a responsible father for his two children - Mason age seven and Mia age six. He and his former wife divorced because of Defendant's drug addiction and because of his impending imprisonment, Defendant agreed that she should have custody of the children. Defendant's girlfriend and members of his family rely upon him for support.

Defendant operates his step-father's former company, Stein's Seamless Gutters. He had worked with his step-father since he was approximately 17 years, working there full time after completing his education and conducting the business today. His work at Federal Express was a part-time job.

Friends and family members have written to the Court attesting to Defendant's basic decency and reliability apart from his drug addiction. His former wife writes:

Ironically, it was Patrick's arrest in relation to this case which ultimately saved his life. After Patrick got arrested, he went to rehab. From that point forward, I started to see a big change in him that was unlike anything I had ever seen. As a direct result of these changes, I felt comfortable letting Patrick see the children again. In time, both Mason and Mia built a beautiful relationship with their father. They both adore their father dearly and spend plenty of quality time together.

Although the government has not moved for a downward departure, Defendant, upon his arrest and immediate release on a personal recognizance bond, went to great lengths to cooperate with the government. He recovered one of the weapons and turned it over to the government. he attempted to assist the FBI and State Police in their recovery of weapons throughout the State. He has provided information concerning drug crimes.

A sentence of less than 46 months, specifically 20 months would comply with the purposes of 18 U.S.C. § 3553(a)(2). It is sufficiently long to reflect the seriousness of the offense, to promote respect for the law, and, considering the adverse consequences upon Defendant, to provide just punishment for the offense. It is long enough to deter criminal, because it is imposed notwithstanding the many grounds for leniency possessed by Defendant. Those lacking such grounds could expect much more severe treatment.

It appears that the conditions that led Defendant to commit this offense have been dealt with. If not the prospect of even longer prison time in the event of any future offense provides sufficient individual deterrence.

There appear to be no educational, medical [✓]care or vocational needs of which Defendant is in need. He should continue to pursue addiction counseling while in prison. It is to be hoped that the sentence is short enough to enable his children and fiancé to remain in touch with him, and perhaps through his employee and family and friends he can ensure the continuation of his business.

The special conditions that prevail in this case prevent unwarranted disparities among Defendants with similar records.

VII COURT DETERMINATIONS OF RESTITUTION

A ☐ Restitution Not Applicable.

B Total Amount of Restitution: $ 14,231.98

C Restitution not ordered (Check only one.):

- 1 ☐ For offenses for which restitution is otherwise mandatory under 18 U.S.C. § 3663A, restitution is not ordered because the number of identifiable victims is so large as to make restitution impracticable under 18 U.S.C. § 3663A(c)(3)(A).
- 2 ☐ For offenses for which restitution is otherwise mandatory under 18 U.S.C. § 3663A, restitution is not ordered because determining complex issues of fact and relating them to the cause or amount of the victims' losses would complicate or prolong the sentencing process to a degree that the need to provide restitution to any victim would be outweighed by the burden on the sentencing process under 18 U.S.C. § 3663A(c)(3)(B).
- 3 ☐ For other offenses for which restitution is authorized under 18 U.S.C. § 3663 and/or required by the sentencing guidelines, restitution is not ordered because the complication and prolongation of the sentencing process resulting from the fashioning of a restitution order outweigh the need to provide restitution to any victims under 18 U.S.C. § 3663(a)(1)(B)(ii).
